Q: GST

A: Once a payment has been processed, a 'Payment Confirmation & Processing Fee Tax Invoice' is generated. This can be emailed or printed. TravelPay does not provide a tax invoice for the customers travel as they did not sell the travel. TravelPay provides an invoice for the merchant service fee charged and the GST that appears on the invoice is in relation to the fee. TravelPay's only involvement with the customer is for processing the payment, it is the same form of receipt that a customer would receive if they paid by using a terminal.

Q: What appears on the customer credit card statement?

A: As agents and customers are using the TravelPay payment portal, the name that appears on the customers credit card statement will be under our merchant name which is 'TravelPay'. The 'Payment Confirmation & Processing Fee Tax Invoice' clearly state that 'TravelPay' will appear on their credit card statement.

Q: I want to do a test transaction to check that the payments go through smoothly

A: When placing a test order, do not put 'test' as a reference, please put any name. If the word 'test' appears, then the payment will not be processed. A minimum amount to process as a test is $2.

Q: What is 'Customer Reference' when processing a payment?

The customer reference field allows you to use a reference which will appear in your payment history and also on your reconciliation report, so you can reconcile this payment. Most Agents use their GDS Mid Office reference number in this field. Remember that you can only use both alphabetical or numerical in this field, NOT SYMBOLS.

Q: What happens with disputed payments, chargebacks & refunds?

A: You must exercise care and take reasonable precautions to prevent incorrect, fraudulent, illegal, reversed or disputed payments from occurring.

As you are the beneficiary of funds collected by us, the supplier of goods and services to the customer and the party privy to relationships with the customer, you bear all responsibility and liability for any reversed or disputed payments or other form of recovery of funds by us. You indemnify and hold us harmless from and against all claims, costs, liabilities and expenses suffered or incurred by us as a result of us being obliged, for any reason, to refund or reverse payments before or after the corresponding amount has been remitted to you.

We will promptly notify you if a payment is refunded by us, or if we receive notice of a disputed payment that might lead to such refund or disgorgement. You must do everything necessary on your part to enable us to avoid having to refund payments, including, for example, providing information about the goods and services supplied by you and the customer authorisation in relation to a payment.

Notice of a disputed payment or chargeback will be successfully refuted if you provide clear customer authorisation from your customer that is subsequently accepted by your customer's or the account holder's financial institution. Should the disputed payment or chargeback not be refuted, you will need to resolve the matter directly with your customer.

If we receive notice of a disputed payment and/or are required to refund or reverse all or part of any payment to a customer, an account holder or their bank or such a refund is debited from your account or otherwise disgorged, then:

- i) we will be discharged from any obligation to remit that amount to you; and
- ii) you must reimburse us for that amount and/or we may set amounts due to you under this clause off against any other payments due by us to you and/or deduct amounts from your nominated trust bank account and/or nominated business account.

If you pay money to us in accordance with paragraph 9 (Travel Agent Terms) and we subsequently recover funds from the customer, then we will hold the amount recovered in trust for you and deposit it into your nominated bank account.

You represent and warrant to us that you hold all statutory licences and authorities necessary for the collection of payments. You acknowledge that we are not providing any payment facility in addition to our stated services.

In the case of a refund directly actioned by us (TravelPay/Zenith Payments), the Visa, Mastercard, American Express or Diners merchant service fee will not be refunded – only the transaction amount that is originally being sent to the travel agent. This is due to the reason that TravelPay is a third party processor, not a bank or financial institute. We are still charged per transaction, regardless if its refunded or processed, hence why we do not refund this.

As part of your TravelPay account activation form, you authorised us to credit and debit your nominated trust bank account and/or nominated business account in accordance with the terms and conditions set out within the signed agreement.

Q: What is the refund process?

A: In the case of a refund directly actioned by us (TravelPay/Zenith Payments), the Visa, Mastercard, American Express or Diners merchant service fee will not be refunded – only the transaction amount that is originally being sent to the travel agent. This is due to the reason that TravelPay is a third party processor, not a bank or financial institute. We are still charged per transaction, regardless if its refunded or processed, hence why we do not refund this.
